SACRAMENTO – The state Board of Equalization has set up a Web site offering updates of its investigation of mold growth in its headquarters at 450 N St.

Two hundred employees recently were moved out of the top three floors of the 24-story building after mold was discovered growing in the walls.

Information distributed to employees and links to information about mold can be found at www.boe.ca.gov/info/building_update.html. It also has an e-mail that employees can use to ask questions of consultants working on the investigation and remediation of the mold for the BOE.
